

Computational Thinking

St Cyres D.C.F

Decomposition

The process of breaking down a complex task into smaller parts.

Abstraction

The process of prioritising relevant information and removing unnecessary detail.

Pattern Recognition

The process of finding similarities within data to help complete a task.

Algorithm

A set of instructions completed in order to solve a problem as effectively as possible.

